

Traveling Flâneurs

We are Eliza and Paul, the married team behind the Traveling Flâneurs.

Our obsession with travel flourished as we planned our 3 week Italian honeymoon in 2016.

In the months leading up to our departure, we spent many date nights with a bottle of wine, earmarked guidebooks, and computers a-buzzing, figuring out our travel plans.

Somewhere between sipping Chianti Classicos deep in Tuscany and lounging on the beach in Monterosso, we decided this trip was too good to keep to ourselves, and this blog was born.

Our mission is to make trip planning easier for others, by sharing the experiences and products that have made our travels unforgettable.
